Dear Reader,

A year ago, Poorvam began as a quiet but deliberate initiative—to create a space where India’s intellectual traditions could be engaged with seriousness, continuity, and contemporary relevance.

One year later, that intent has taken form.

In these twelve months, we have published two issues and fourteen articles, each contributing to an evolving discourse rooted in philosophy, literature, aesthetics, and civilizational inquiry. What began as a platform is gradually becoming a repository of thought—carefully curated, critically engaged, and deeply anchored.

But Poorvam has never been only about publication.

With the launch of “Authors in Conversation”, we opened a dialogic space—bringing writers and readers into direct engagement. With “Cite It!”, we initiated a practice-driven approach to scholarship, encouraging precision, rigor, and academic responsibility.

And perhaps most importantly, a community has begun to take shape.

Today, Poorvam is sustained by a growing collective of 100+ readers, writers, and thinkers—each contributing, in their own way, to a shared intellectual ecosystem. This is not just growth in numbers, but in depth, commitment, and continuity.

This journey has been possible because of you.

In a time defined by speed and fragmentation, your choice to engage with thoughtful, layered, and culturally rooted work affirms the need for spaces like Poorvam. You have not just supported us—you have helped shape what we are becoming.

As we move into our second year, our direction is clear.

We aim to deepen our editorial vision, expand our scholarly contributions, and strengthen the bridge between traditional knowledge systems and contemporary modes of inquiry. Through initiatives like Vidyakendra and our ongoing work with AI-integrated knowledge platforms, we are also exploring how classical wisdom can inhabit and guide the digital future.

This is only the beginning.

We invite you to continue with us— not just as readers, but as participants in a living, evolving conversation.

Because Poorvam is not merely a journal.

It is a space of return.

And a space of becoming.

With gratitude,

Amritanath Bhattacharya
